Women Appointed College Trustees; First In History

For the first time in the 149-year history of the Middlebury Board of Trustees, two women, Gertrude Cornish Milliken '01 (Mrs. Joseph K.) and Alice Guest Howson '30 (Mrs. J. Howard), have been appointed trustees of Middlebury College.

Mrs. Milliken, a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Kappa Gamma, received her M.A. from Clark University in 1909, and held teaching positions at Wheaton Seminary; Castleton Normal School in Castleton, and Farmington Teachers' College in Farmington, Conn. Mrs. Milliken received an honorary master of arts degree in 1927 and an honorary doctor of education degree in 1947. In 1911 she founded the House in the Pines School, a preparatory school for girls, in Norton, Mass. She served as headmistress of the school until 1944 when she resigned to serve as president and treasurer of the Board of Trustees of that school. Mrs. Milliken has served on the Women's Advisory Board to the Middlebury Board of Trustees since it was first established in 1929.

Mrs. Howson, also a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, attended Middlebury as a Dutton Fellow when that fellowship was available to both men and women. After her graduation, she studied abroad, receiving a diploma for work in the English language and literature from King's College, University of London. During the summers of 1932, 1935, and 1936, Mrs. Howson attended the Breadloaf School, receiving a master of arts degree from Breadloaf. In 1943 and 1944, she was awarded the Ellis Fellowship at Columbia University and also studied at the University of California. Mrs. Howson has taught in high schools for nine years, and at Brooklyn College in New York. She has been an instructor of English at Vassar College since 1946. Mrs. Howson at present is studying for a doctor's degree on the thesis, "A Critical Study of Herman Melville as a Lyric Poet."

The new trustees will meet with the board for the first time on October 9.

Dutton Fellowship Contest Announced

December 18, is the deadline for filing applications for the Dutton Fellowship. Any senior man wishing to do post-graduate work in an English speaking country outside the United States, France, or Holland may apply for the $2500 award. Men who will be graduated in February are also eligible for this fellowship.

First established in 1926 by the Hon. Redfield Proctor for a period of five years and continued in 1932 for five more years, the Fellowship grant was renewed last year by the donor. The Fellowship is offered to a man of the graduating class for the purpose of defraying expenses of one year of post-graduate work in a foreign country as described above. It is specified that the year of graduate work shall not be to-

Contest Rules Set At Council Meeting

Rules for judging Homecoming decorations were discussed by the Interfraternity Council at a meeting last Friday night. William E. Miller '50 was elected secretary-treasurer to replace T. Philson Turnbull '49 who resigned from that position last week.

A fifteen-dollar limit on the purchase of new materials for the decorations was imposed by the Council, although no limitation was made on the use of second hand goods. No central theme for the decorations was set. Judging will begin about 10.00 a.m., Saturday, October 9 and the trophy will be awarded at the Commodore's Ball that night.

Two constitutional amendments were passed at the meeting. The first, concerning attendance by the members, is as follows: "If a house be unrepresented at two meetings of the Council during a semester, that house will be required to elect two new men as representatives to the Council." The second amendment puts into writing a rule that has been observed the last few years, "Freshmen are not allowed into any fraternity house at Middlebury during the rushing period except under the regularly scheduled dinner program."

The Council discussed proposals for methods of awarding the intramural cups but took no definite action. The two proposals that received the most support were either to award the cups in chapel or to have a fraternity night or nights at which time they would be presented.

Cheer Leaders Plan Friday Night Rally

The first pep rally of the 1948 football season will begin Friday at 7.00 p.m. in McCullough gym. At this time several new cheers and songs will be introduced by the cheerleading squad led by Capt. William A. Zack '49. After a short rally in the gym, there will be a traditional bonfire and snake dance with songs and cheers on Porter Field.

Under Captain Zack, the cheerleaders, six strong this year, have been practicing since last spring for the coming season. New cheerleaders this year are: Ted R. Harris '51 and Christine White '50. Veterans from last year's squad include Mr. Zack, Charles R. Wright '50, Marion C. Higley '49, and Marilyn Crawford '49.

The freshman men are preparing the material for the bonfire, so farmers with privies beware! The frosh men are also constructing floats to be exhibited in the parade from the gym to Porter Field.

Tuesday night the cheerleaders introduced the college songs and cheers to the freshman women and on Wednesday night to the freshman men.

Plans have been announced for training cheerleaders in the future and call for accepting two men and two women from each class every spring.

FORUM MEMBERS TOTAL 307 WOMEN

Women's Forum membership totaled 307, sixty-two per cent of the women's college, at the culmination of the drive for new members Friday, October 1. Pearsons had the best representation with 100 per cent of the dormitory's sixty-eight women joining the organization.

Forum members signed up for the committees they will work on during the college year at the organizational meeting, Friday night in Forest Rec. Dorcas R. Neal '49, president, introduced committee chairmen who described the phases of Forum's activities.

The committees include Thrift Shop, Girl Scouts, Town Arts and Crafts, Charm Classes, Story Hour, Thanksgiving Baskets, Ripton Arts and Crafts, Ripton Christmas Party, Hospital, Records, Baby Sitting, Calendar Sales, Hostess, Brownies, Dancing Classes, and Posters.

Miss Neal suggested that a series of programs for children be given in the high school as a project for the entire organization. No definite plans were made, however.

Middlebury Prepares Homecoming Program

Rhodes Committee Explains Eligibility

Thirty-two Rhodes Scholarships, awarded annually to United States citizens, will be divided among candidates for regular and war service scholarships this year. Four men from each of the eight districts in the United States will receive the scholarships amounting to a basic value of £400, at present supplemented by an additional allowance of £100.

The War Service Scholarships, open to men who have completed at least one year of war service either as a member of the armed forces or as a civilian war worker, will be discontinued after 1948. Men eligible for the GI Bill may receive the benefits of the bill in addition to the scholarship grant.

The scholarships are granted on the basis of literary and scholastic ability, qualities of manhood, exhibition of moral force of character and physical vigor.

Applications must be sent not later than October 30 to the Secretary of the Committee of Selection for the state in which the candidate wishes to compete. He may apply either in the state in which he resides or in the state in which he has received his college education. At Middlebury, information and application blanks may be obtained from Prof. Reginald L. Cook who is the institutional representative and secretary for the State of Vermont for Rhodes Scholarships.

Both regular and war service scholarships are awarded for two years in the first instance, with a possible third year for those whose record and plan of study make such an award advisable.

To be eligible for a War Service Scholarship the applicant must be a male

Fashion Magazine Announces Contest

Mademoiselle, fashion magazine, has announced the opening of its annual contest for college women to become members of their College Board or College Guest Editors. As members of the College Board, college women fulfill three assignments throughout the year. As Guest Editors they aid in writing and editing the annual August College Issue.

In order to be chosen as a College Guest Editor, undergraduates must be members of Mademoiselle's national College Board during the 1948-1949 college year. From the College Board twenty Guest Editors are chosen and brought to New York City for four weeks (June 6 through July 1) with transportation paid, plus a regular salary for their work.

While in New York, Guest Editors take part in activities designed to give them a head start in their careers. Each Guest Editor interviews a top celebrity in her chosen field, takes field trips to newspaper offices, fashion workrooms, radio stations, stores, agencies and printing plants. In addition each girl receives informal, personalized career guidance.

To become a College Board member and compete for a position as Guest Editor, the following requirements must be filled: (1) Contestants must submit a report of two typewritten, double-spaced pages on any phase of campus life: a new academic course, a fashion, a fad, a campus activity, an interesting organization, a college trend or anything else that might interest other college students. (2) Contestants must submit a snapshot, plus complete data on college and home addresses,

Weekend's Events To Be Highlighted By Game, Formal

The traditional Middlebury Homecoming Day this Saturday will draw several hundred alumni and alumnae and friends of the college "back to the college on the hill." Highlighting the day for all students and visitors will be the Middlebury Panthers' first home game of the 1948 season, against Hamilton College, fraternity tea dances after the game and the Sailing Club formal, "The Commodore's Ball" at the high school gym in the evening.

As in past years, a prize will be awarded to the fraternity having the best house decorations for Homecoming. The judging on Saturday morning will be done by Mr. Edgar J. Wiley, Mr. Peter H. Walton, special instructor in fine arts, and Miss Elizabeth W. Baker. A new cup, to replace that won by the Chi Psis last year, will be presented to the president of the winning fraternity at the Commodore's Ball.

Alumni and alumnae will be housed at Breadloaf and light breakfasts will be served at the Snack Bar there. All graduates are asked to register at the Egbert Starr Library, where programs and information may be secured.

Alumni and alumnae activities will begin on Friday with registration at the library in the afternoon, a dinner meeting of the Alumni Council at Dog Team Tavern and a dinner meeting of the Alumnae Council at the Charter House, Friday night. All visitors ar einvited to the rally for the Hamilton game at McCullough Gym, and bonfire afterwards.

On Saturday, there will be an Alumnae Council meeting in Pearsons living room, and a Trustees' Meeting in Old Chapel at 10 a.m. Buffet luncheon for visitors will be served in McCullough Gym from 12-1.15 p.m., before the game at Porter Field. Friends of the college are invited to go through the comparatively new

VOL. XLV October 7, 1948 NO. 3

Gym Report

Most alumni and alumnae, returning to the hill for Homecoming Weekend, will observe that some changes have taken place since their last visit. The Student Union building has been operating since last October, the Trustees Room in Old Chapel is a beautiful addition to the College, the tennis courts behind Hepburn Hall have been enclosed with heavy duty wire fencing, and a new intra-mural athletic field is under construction. The 1948 edition of the football team is potentially the best in the history of football at Middlebury.

Perhaps the greatest and most noticeable change is the construction work being done on the new gym. The superstructure is now being erected and much progress has been made on the roofing. The greatly desired and much talked about gymnasium is now well passed the discussion stage.

By September 30, $430,645 had been subscribed and $333,889 had been paid up in cash. It is urgently hoped that all who have not completed payment on their original subscriptions will do so as soon as possible, since construction bills and payrolls must be met.

An additional $20,000 is still needed to complete the building. It has been suggested that in order to reach the total of approximately $450,000, 10 percent more than the original sum of all contributions, a 10 percent increase from all subscribers will provide the additional money required.

Take a walk down to observe for yourself the progress being made on the new gym and field house which was made possible through your generous gifts.

Election Day

Monday elections will be held to choose the representatives to the legislative bodies set up under the constitutions—Men's Assembly and Women's Assembly. The assemblies provide a voice in active student government for each member of the undergraduate body. In order to function efficiently and for the benefit of all, the assemblies must be composed of efficient, capable persons interested in student government and welfare.

"The purposes of this organization shall be to provide a controlling and directing force for every phase of undergraduate activity not directly administered by the faculty and executive officers; to foster a spirit of unity and cooperation among the students of the college; to develop among students a sense of personal responsibility for their own conduct and the welfare of the college; to develop cooperation and understanding between the Men's and Women's Colleges; and to provide opportunity for training and experience in the establishment and operation of representative government."

"To further the spirit of unity among the women students at Middlebury; to coordinate and control the extra-curricular activities of the women students; and to encourage high standards of cooperation in student self government."

The first quotation defines the objectives of the constitution of the Men's Undergraduate Association of Middlebury College, and the second quotation states the purpose of the constitution of the Student Union Association, Women's College of Middlebury.

Middlebury has no poll tax, Ku Klux Klan, discrimination, or one-party politics. Nobody forces you to vote, and, we hope, there are no political machines functioning. These are free elections in every sense of the word.

Choose wisely, and do not allow personal friendship, fraternal ties, or indifference to be your guide. Elect the persons best qualified to carry out the objectives of the constitution.

Campus Assumes Cosmopolitan Air

Morton Y. Sand '49

Each year Middlebury becomes more cosmopolitan. We're moving further and further from the time when almost every undergraduate was a dyed-in-the-wool Vermonter. This fall we have students in the Women's College who have lived everywhere from Ningpo, China, to Baghdad, Iraq. Midd welcomes these girls on campus, for the creeping malignity of provincialism ever lurks behind the nearest mountain here in the antipodes.

Born in Baghdad, Jeanne Badeau '52 comes to us from Cairo, Egypt, where her dad is prexy of the American University. Jeanne first lived in Cairo from 1916 to 1940, lived in the States from 1940 until 1945 when she went back to Cairo, and finally returned to the U. S. and Midd this fall. She's anxious to join the Mountain Club, because she likes hiking "and all you can climb in Egypt are the pyramids." Camel riding seems rather pallid in comparison with the skiing she wants to do this winter.

Renee Lea '50, born in Soochow, China, came to the States in 1946 and enrolled at Mills College in California. Her father is an economic adviser to the Chinese National Government and her grandfather was dean of Soochow University, where Renee studied after graduating from high school in Shanghai. She is majoring in Fine Arts and plans to return to China after getting her B.A. When asked for a personal impression of Midd, Renee replied with genuine oriental reticence "I like it here."

Margaret Nasmith '52 was born in Ningpo, China and is the daughter of a missionary. She came to the U. S. in 1940 with her parents, and stayed here until 1946, when she joined her father who returned to China in 1941. She lived in Shanghai from 1937 to 1941 and returned there in 1946. The war damage and terrific inflation left a marked impression on her. Margaret says that the friendliness here is a pleasant change after the grim, self-preservative attitude of today's insecure Chinese.

In 1944 Betty Parker '52 moved with her parents to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where her dad was an electrical engineer with Westinghouse International. After living for four years at the leisurely pace so dear to the Latins, she finds it difficult to adjust once again to the "hustle, bustle, business" of New York in particular and the States in general. Now accustomed to mild climate, Betty listens with trepidation to tales of Vermont's rugged winters.

In 1945 Barbara Osborne '52 boarded the Gripsholm and sailed for Cairo, where her father is Cairo manager of the Arabian-American Oil Co. In 1946 she attended school in Lausanne, Switzerland, returned to the States in 1947 by the way of Norway, went back to Cairo the same year, and is home once again. Since all the men in Egypt seemed to wear long night-gowns (galabeas), Barbara says that it's nice to see men wearing pants again. Having picked up the skiing bug in Switzerland, she should feel right at home here.

Rev. Nels F. Fere To Speak Sunday

The speaker for junior-senior vespers Sunday, October 10, will be the Rev. Nels F. S. Ferre of the Andover Newton Theological Seminary.

Born the son of a Baptist clergyman in Lulea, Sweden, Mr. Ferre came to the United States in 1921 at the age of thirteen to continue his education. In 1931 he graduated from Boston University and entered Andover Newton Theological Seminary. Mr. Ferre received his Master's degree from Harvard in 1936 and became a Sheldon Travelling Fellow to the Universities of Lund and Upsala. He received his Ph.D. in 1938. Since that time he has been Abbot Professor of Christian Theology at Andover.

Mr. Ferre has written several books, among them, Swedish Contributions to Modern Theology, Return to Christianity and Pillars of Faith. He is at present chairman of the Boston Institute of Religious and Social Studies-Religious section.

Opinions of the Week

Editor's Note: There are many open dates on this year's social calendar which in previous years have been filled with gym dances sponsored by college organizations. Since so many organizations either lost money or just broke even on these dances last year, there has been some question raised as to whether or not they should be continued.

QUESTION: How important a part do you think gym dances play in Middlebury life?

Cindy Buehr '49
New York, N. Y.

Dances? You mean this school is co-ed?

Well, my roommate says they're good 'cause you have to keep "both feet on the ground." A friend of mine says they're good because the dorm is quiet, conducive to cogitation. My other friend (the plot thickens), thinks they should be replaced by bund meetings. As far as I'm concerned. . . .

David Dale '49
Longmeadow, Mass.

Oddly enough, one of the things I enjoy doing at Middlebury is dancing on Saturday night. As I watch them tack up that tar paper monstrosity by Porter Field, I wonder what the gym dances of the future will be like.

With the expense of the Panthers, plus fraternity competition, hardly any organization filled the High School gym last year. I believe that fraternity functions should take a back seat to all college-wide dances. If this college is as small and friendly as it claims it is, there is no reason why everybody, and I mean everybody, can't get together on Saturday night and have a good time. If the attendance gets any smaller, we'll have to hold the dances in the Trustees' Room.

Priscilla A. Wood '50
Westwood, N. J.

I think the gym dances play, or at least they could play, a very important part in the college life here at Middlebury. At the gym dances you have the opportunity to meet so many more people than could possibly be included at the fraternity shindigs. And another thing . . . . everybody is free to attend, not only the fraternity brothers; and the feeling of being part of Middlebury, not just a small group, is the main theme.

I think the dances would be more of a success if they weren't all planned for the same season. Couldn't the Cook's Club raise money in the spring rather than in the fall? We're always deluged with gym dances right about this time, and by the time Christmas vacation rolls around, everybody turns a little green whenever another poster goes up in Munroe. Why couldn't we have them sandwiched in between all the other doings on campus throughout the year?

Maybe if a little more informality were present, they would go over with a bigger bang. Not necessarily a Klondike Rush every Saturday night, but a couple of sweater and skirt dances would be a welcome change.

One thing more. Couldn't we please have the deals in the High School gym? Trying to plough into the back door of "McCullough gymnasium, of marble and colonial design" is enough to give anybody the creeps.

J. Edmund Sullivan '49
Longmeadow, Mass.

"Social" means human contact. Dances thus provide "social." I mean the girl and all that. They're fun. Girls, I mean. I met mine in the Snack Bar. I met her there because she could eat. I mean and sit and relax at the same time. Gym dances are not conducive to such. I mean all the talking and lazing is done in the foyer—on the steps, I mean. Ha! There we have it! We'll call them "step dances." Of course it all depends on whom you are with. I mean the girl and all that.

M. Patricia McFarland '49
West Chester, Pa.

With fraternities once again in full swing, informal gym dances have come to play an unimportant part in Middlebury "night life." They require more planning and more work; they usually require a price, but let's not abandon them.

Informal dances open to everyone can be a means of getting lots of people together and helping to encourage that "know-everybody" atmosphere that we like to associate with Middlebury. Too, there are numerous organizations that depend on dance proceeds as an important source of income. The dances don't have to be always, but they should, I feel, be—and with the entire student body cooperating, be a success!

William F. Trask '51
Rochester, Vt.

I believe that the old custom of gym dances should be revived, not so we have them every week, but once or twice a month. I feel such dances would increase the relations between fraternity and neutral men and women. Also, even though there are several big (and expensive) dances at the gym during the year, smaller dances could be cheaper, allowing more people to go more often. If the dances were given not as often, and with more enthusiasm and cooperation, perhaps the sponsors of them might make some money.

News In Paragraphs

Chest x-rays will be given this year October 12-15 in McCullough gymnasium. A free service of the Vermont State Department of Public Health and the Vermont Tuberculosis Association, chest x-rays are the only way to discover tuberculosis at an early stage. A goal of 100 percent attendance by Middlebury's student body has been set by the physical education department.

Mortar Board, in making plans for a new alma mater, urgently requests that anyone interested in submitting a song for consideration please do so as soon as possible, as none of the songs suggested last year received a majority vote. Music for the alma mater may or may not be original. Words should be fitting for an alma mater.

The National Poetry Association announced that November 5 would be the closing date for the submission of manuscripts for the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. The following rules govern all entries: (1) Each effort must be on a separate sheet, and must carry the following statement: The verse entitled ". . . ." is my own personal effort; (2) Each must be signed, and include both the student's college address and his home address. Entries may be mailed to the National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif. There are no charges or fees for inclusion of verse in the Anthology.

Pres. Samuel S. Stratton will leave Sunday for New York City where he will attend the inauguration of Dwight D. Eisenhower as president of Columbia University. While in New York, he will also attend a dinner in honor of the British ambassador to the United States, and a meeting with the presidents of Colby, Bates, St. Lawrence, Hobart, and Hamilton.

At a senior class meeting held in Forest Rec last Tuesday, the following class officers were elected: President, Dorcas R. Neal; vice president, A. Lois Quirk; secretary, H. THE MIDD-WAY

Since the inception of this column entitled the Midd-Way, which has attempted to bring you readers the inside info from the people in the know about the Midd greats and their doings, we have stuck strictly to the hero worship policy and have had very little to say against the Country Club Campus. Mainly, because, "I did not come to bury Middlebury but to praise Middlebury." However, the time for some constructive criticism has come. Last year my colleague and contemporary made various and sundry remarks about the deplorable condition of the tennis courts and lo and behold there were attempts this fall to remedy the situation. Cages have been built around them so you can't feed the animals. Progress—a step forward. Ever since Edson, the groundkeeper, retired to take a job as Vice-President of the A.A., Porter Field has borne a strong resemblance to a stretch of desert just south of the Sahara where the Arabs held their Olympic trials last year. However, the athletic Bostonians that romp around on Porter Field Monday through Saturday aren't used to the bare turf and the dust-filled air. Even the lower Jersey boys who are familiar with smoky Jersey City have been heard to complain, "All day I face the barren waste" has been a popular shower room favorite because of the condition of the field. "Bite the dust" is no longer a colloquialism and as each tackler clasps his arms around his victim he shouts, "Bite the dust." It is more often true than not. What most observers fear will soon happen is that the Duke will have his lungs filled with dust some afternoon and will not be heard in Addison County. An absurd impossibility, but nevertheless, one never knows. At any rate, a little water would undoubtedly help and with four home games approaching, we must treat our guests with the same congeniality we would expect from them. So waiter, water please, even if it's only rain water!!

Last week we attempted to acquaint you with the backbone of the Midd grid squad. This week we introduce the men behind the men—the reserve power of the Panther team:

The backfield.

Che Che Barquin—Missing the first two games because of pressing scholastic engagements, Che Che is back again this week to give the squad a hand in the next four home games. Che Che is a speed merchant from Barre.

Bob Hughes—Lost in the shuffle on the freshman club, "Gabby" came to the varsity and found he had to supplant Farrell and O'Neil if he wanted to play. Without being the least bit aggressive or obnoxious about it, the somber sophomore went about his business and as a result of what he has shown, should see more than his share of action this fall. An adherent of the philosophy, "Actions speak louder than words," Bob has been accused of talking too much in the huddle but there isn't a word of truth in it. Bob is a Jersey boy from Leonia.

Jerry O'Neil—Jerry was the triple threat ace of the freshman club last fall and graduated with honors to become a full fledged Panther. Jerry is an excellent punter and passer and is currently sharing the place kicking assignment with Wendy Forbes. Dedham, Mass., claims Jerry as a native son.

Bill Whittemore—A rugged blocking back who was a center and the outstanding lineman on the freshman club a year ago. Billy, from Winchester, Mass., has come a long way and is third string blocking back at the present.

Pete Cassimatis—Took over the left end slot in mid-season last fall and did a bang-up job but has been overtaken by injuries and Ralph Loveys this fall. However, Peter will see a lot of action as he is a better than average down field blocker. East Norwalk, Conn., is his home.

Benny Barsanti—The affable Benny took over Bard Lindeman's position when Lindy was hurt and Ben is a tough customer to contend with. Ben was a tackle on the freshman team last year. Wakefield, Mass., is home for the Barsanti clan.

Hank Caswell—"Tiger" is what the Duke calls him and once, in one of his oratorical masterpieces called Hank the toughest man pound for pound on the squad. Hank is a local lad, a fair center and a defensive standout, as he knows no fear.

Frank Haven—Frank was a fullback a year ago but because of his size (200 lbs.) he was convinced by the coaches that he was a guard, and today he is well on his way to being a lineman. Frank is a Jersey man but has transferred his living quarters for convenience since there is now a Mrs. Haven.

Marty Johnson—A rugged lad from Stoughton, Mass., Marty is a three year veteran at tackle. He fills in at either tackle spot and defense is his specialty.

Don MacLean—"Tiny" played for Midd in the dark war years and this fall returned to the Panther squad. Mac is a charter member of the Melrose Alumni at Midd and should see a lot of action at center this season.

Guido Tine—A big package straight from the package store in Wakefield, Mass., is Mr. Seersucker Tine. Guido bolsters the Midd line with 220 pounds. The big gent has more fans at Midd than Sally Keith on opening night in Boston.

Sam Masters—A fleet back from Rochester, Sam is the Midd kick-off artist and a defensive halfback of the first order.

Notice to one Mr. Block—This column was written on Saturday night in the shadow of Old Chapel with the victory bell knolling its droll dong dong. This was the sort of thing that inspired Edgar Allen Poe and with fear of being called for drawing a comparison which involves myself with Edgar Allen Poe I would like to say that I too was inspired by knolling of bells.

Women's Ski Team Plans Big Season

Twenty candidates for the women's ski team showed up at Hepburn Rec room last Tuesday night to "get the word" on the coming season's activities from Joe Jones, women's ski coach. Six of the group were active skiers last year. Headed by Bett Sutherland current captain, the six are Jean Smith (skier-manager), Joan Macklaier, Margy Packard, Jimmie Snively and Gretchen Storer.

Three of the eleven freshmen sign-ups indicated racing experience in both the slalom and downhill. Alice Hildreth, Ann-Marie Kearney and Margaret Lewis are the names of these freshmen, and they will constitute a friendly threat to the more established "A" team members in the time trials to come.

Midd Crews Win Dunmore Regatta

Nosing out a strong McGill team in the last two races of the day, Middlebury raced to another sailing victory in the quadrangular meet held at Lake Dunmore last Sunday. Something new in the way of regatta weather—a fair, cool and very blustery day greeted the participants, and made the sailing wet and cold.

Crews from Dartmouth, McGill, and Trinity provided good competition for skippers, Bob Bennitt, and Verne Lowman and their crews, Sue Goyne and Midge Rogers. The races were run off in two divisions and each club had a chance to sail each of the four new boats. Al Perry and Dan Muessel comprised the race committee. At no point except at the very end was the outcome assured. The final scores were: Midd 28, McGill 19, Dartmouth 18, Trinity 13.

Midd Harriers To Open Season With Champlain

At 9.00 o'clock tomorrow morning, Coach Brown and nine stout-hearted harriers will leave for Plattsburg, N. Y., to open the cross-country season with a dual meet at Champlain College. The boys are scheduled to go out at 2.00 p.m. over the relatively short course of 3.5 miles.

Six lettermen from last year are back to wear the Blue and White; Capt. Jim Newman, Norm Bates, Dave Dale, Bob Gore, Rufus Cushman and "Doc" Drohat. However, Cushman and Drohat have had to lay off conditioning due to illness and will not be available for service this week.

Four sophomores, who will be racing with a varsity team for the first time, are Pete Perryman, Phil Clark, Don Axinn, and Dave Maysilles. Dix Hemphill, captain of last season's spring track team and a newcomer to the distance run, rounds out the squad.

Intramural touch football got off to a flying start last Monday afternoon when four teams clashed on the gridiron down at the athletic field. In the more exciting of the two contests the Theta Chis played Chi Psi to a 7-7 deadlock. The game wound up at the end of the scheduled sixty plays as a 7-7 tie with a five-play overtime declared, but neither team was able to crash the scoring column. As a result, the game will be ruled no contest and will be played off at a later date. Al Caswell and Dick Boss with their fine running and passing kept the TC men in the running until the last minute, while Phil Turnbull cavorted in fine style for the Chipsies.

In the other game that same afternoon a DKE powerhouse trampled the Alpha Sigs 25-0. The Dekes were off on their winning ways early in the initial quarter when Bob Dibble gathered in a Troy pass that was good for six markers. Thereupon, big Bill Pihlcrantz proceeded to make connections with three different receivers via the aerial route for the final counters. One extra point was added when Sam Donnellon scampered over for a lone tally. On the other side the ASP men displayed a potentially great offensive combination which employed its all-star candidate for repeat all-league honors, Bill Miller, to best advantage.

Midd Defence Set For Aerial Deluge

PANTHERS EXPECT TO COP THIRD WIN

Messrs. Walter Nelson and Richard Ciccolella, the Panther coaches, expect plenty of trouble from Hamilton College's football team, but in other circles people who can afford to be, are optimistic about the Middmen's chances.

Members of the student body who have access to newspapers and read scores strongly prefer Middlebury. Last Saturday, Hamilton's Continentals lost to Allegheny College, 19-0, and on the weight of that evidence the local experts are picking the Panthers by thirty points.

Although Mr. Ciccolella, worthy scout, is not quite so optimistic, he has given the impression in his report that if Hamilton wins, he will consider it an upset. He has warned our gridders of the possibilities that the Continentals may open up an all-out passing attack. They are unimpressive on the ground, but against Allegheny they opened up a fourth period passing attack that might have produced scores had not their captain-fullback lapsed into an old habit of calling his own number.

The fullback, Tony Digregorio, weighs 135 pounds and it is claimed that he is the smallest in college football. Tony stands 5 feet 3 inches, and he is fast and generally dangerous. Hamilton also has an end, Bob Clements, who is captain of the track team and consequently a marked man for his speed. These two men, plus a couple of 200-pound tackles comprise the bulk of Hamilton's hopes for success.

The New York school's outlook is subtly exhibited in the following press release from Clinton, concerning a halfback:

"Bob Milkey, probably the fastest man on the squad; this halfback letterman several times last year hauled down runners from behind after dashes averaging more than 40 yards."

At Porter Field this Saturday it is hoped that Bob will receive boundless opportunities to display his special talent.

The Hamilton press notice further states that its team has a preponderance of veterans from last year's squad. This curdles the blood of no one since last year's squad lost six out of seven and scored but 34 points against their oppenents 144.

Middlebury, on the other hand, has not lost a game in Vermont since Wesleyan invaded in 1946, and this should be the Panther's seventh straight at home.

The team will be at full strength for Saturday's encounter but in the event of a Middlebury rout, the Duke will probably bench Farrell, Mulcahy, Conners, and Lindeman early, giving their assorted wounds a chance to heal. However, they are all fit enough to play sixty minutes if an emergency develops.

Most of the backfield chores will prob-

Farrell Returns Kickoff 80 Yards After Bates T. D.

Coach "Ducky" Ponds' highly favored Bates Bobcats found their hopes of an easy victory shattered by a rock—a 20-7 rock—hurled by the Panthers into the Bates private wonderland last Saturday before a homecoming crowd of 4,000 "potato pickers" at Lewiston, Me. Jarrin' John Corbisiero and fleet-footed Paul Farrell led a badly injured but determined Midd eleven to its second straight victory.

Expecting little more than a "breather" before meeting Tufts next week, the Bobcats completely handcuffed the Panthers in the first half. As the third period started however, the "breather" blew up in the faces of the Bates squad and the "Big Blue Machine" started rolling. Corbisiero and Farrell ran up two quick first downs. A fluke fumble however, gave the Bobcats a fast six points and restored their confidence. Bates' left end, Tessicini, picked the Midd fumble out of the air and lateraled to Scott who raced the remaining 35 yards for the score. The conversion was good and the Bates band struck up the victory march. Things then went from the ridiculous to the sublime as Bates' Capt. Art Blanchard drop-kicked off to Farrell who took the ball on his twenty. Paul cut up the middle, headed for the left sideline and raced 80 yards for the score. Jerry O'Neil calmly placed kicked the extra point and the score was tied, 7-7.

While the people were still on their feet the Panthers began to roar again. Sam Masters kicked off and then proceeded to race down under his own kick and tackle the Bates receiver. He literally cut the ball carrier in half, causing him to fumble, and Frank Haven fell on the loose ball. After a series of short gains, Farrell dropped back and completed the only Midd pass of the day for a touchdown, establishing a lead which was not to be relinquished. The pass was to right end Irv Meeker who took the ball on the Bates ten and romped into the end zone. O'Neil again converted.

Late in the fourth period Bates became reckless with aerials, and it was as a result of one such attempted pass that Midd netted its final score. "Ace" Mulcahy intercepted a pass intended for the Bates left end on the Bobcat 43 and carried it all the way to the nine, setting up the final touchdown. Johnny Corbisiero wasted no time as he drove off right tackle on the first try and leaped into the end zone. This was a Merriwell finish to a good game and a perfect climax for Big John who had run, blocked, tackled, and directed the Panther attack all afternoon.

The unsung hero of the Midd victory was Wendy Forbes who was a savior in every respect. Wendy kept the Panthers out of hot water time after time with his superb kicking. He was forced to kick five times in the first half and his best effort was a 69-yard boot which considerably eased the pressure on the Panthers who were bottled up.

The Bates boys were big and rough and a quick look at the injured list makes one appreciate bridge. Walt Connors has a couple of sore ribs which have been x-rayed for possible fracture, Paul Farrell received a bruised hip, and Jack Mulcahy has a badly bruised knee.

After Farrell's 80-yard jaunt for a touchdown the field was actually strewn with bodies. Three Bates men were prostrate at various intervals on the 100-yard plot after Farrell reached the end zone and some character in the stands struck up the "Funeral March" in answer to the Bates band's offering.

C. A. P. Squadron Reactivated Here

Last spring Squadron No. 461 of the Civil Air Patrol was reactivated on the Middlebury campus under the leadership of Benjamin F. Wissler, professor of physics. At that time the Army Air Force loaned the group a Piper L-4 to be used by the squadron in carrying out its duties. This plane, with planes owned by local airports at Middlebury and Bristol, form the nucleus around which the squadron is organized.

Since the C. A. P. is a national organization and sponsored by the AAF, one of its primary purposes is to aid in national defense by utilizing the enthusiasm of air-minded students in activities such as fire fighting. When the unit is alerted by headquarters in Montpelier, two teams composed of pilot and observer go up twice daily on observation flights.

The squadron has equipment to set up its own radio station which will be in direct communication with Wing headquarters. They are in need of students with radio experience of any type, although people with operation and maintenance experience will be especially useful.

Classes are taught by qualified student members of CAP in navigation, radio, meteorology and aircraft and engines. Members who are not qualified pilots get a chance to fly by being fire observers on the daily flights. The radio station will be set up and students trained to operate it.

The CAP is purely a voluntary organization affiliated with the government. Anyone is eligible for membership. Applications may be obtained from Professor Wissler in Warner Science, Dan T. Hedden '49, 211 Gifford or Priscilla R. Noyes '49, Forest East.

NOTICE

Off-campus students are reminded that their copies of the CAMPUS are delivered to the basement of Munroe Hall where they may pick them up each Friday. All other students receive their copies at the dormitories or fraternity houses. It is, therefore, requested that only off-campus students take the CAMPUS from Munroe Hall.

Increased compensation payments granted for dependents, to veterans who have service-connected disabilities of 60 percent or more, may be paid from the date the dependency is recorded with the Veterans Administration, or from September 1, 1948, whichever is later, according to Charles L. ably rest once more on John Corbisiero, which is Middlebury's way of spelling Joe DiMaggio. He will be assisted up front by Dave Thompson and Irv Meeker, two men who are master craftsmen in this violent fall activity.

Panther followers will also get a chance to see Wendy Forbes, Ralph Loveys and the new Homer Ellis. Forbes, a powerful runner, averaged 45 yards, punting against Bates. Loveys' ability as a defensive and offensive end has become a legend since, and even before, his arrival here from Melrose High. The new Ellis, always a thrill provider has added speed to his jelly-legged shiftiness.

Blue Key Improves Football Programs

An enlarged and improved football program, published under the direction of Blue Key, will be sold at the Hamilton game Saturday.

A 24-page program, it will contain 23 photographs of Middlebury and Hamilton players, of coaches, captains and other people connected with the sport, as well as several photographs of the college. As an added feature, since this is Homecoming Week-end, the program contains photos of the Middlebury football team of 1894 and the gridiron of 1900.

These photographs will be supplemented with valuable and interesting statistics, and short commentaries. Nine and one-half pages are devoted to advertising by local and state merchants interested in aiding the production of a program more worthy of Middlebury.

The publisher of this program, the Stadium Program Publishing Co., of Lynn, Mass., which prints for many New England colleges, reports that the Middlebury program will be "the best in New England."

Because of the larger program, and in line with recent printing cost increases, the program will sell for 35 cents instead of the 25-cent price prevalent for over 20 years. The publisher reports that the increase is general with most New England colleges this year.

Twelve hundred copies have been ordered for sale at the Homecoming game Saturday and will be sold by men from the class of '52. For the succeeding games the number offered for sale will be cut to 500, but the contents will be changed with each issue to attract customers and to make for a better program.

The preparation of the program has been under the direction of Robert J. Simpson '49, with aid from both Blue Key members and several other interested students.

Alpha Xi Delta

Alpha Xi Delta has started off the year by welcoming three members of the sophomore class, Saranne Crawford, Barbara Pike, and Lynne Rask. We were happy to pledge them Monday night.

Romance seemed to be the important feature of our sisters' summer. Sue Hill returned as the fiancee of Kenneth Gustafson. Barbie Scanlon has become another Sig Ep lass; Jim Luke is the lucky man.

A worn and weary D. P. has finally roamed back to Alpha Pi—good to see you again, Irene!

Tuesday evening, after a wonderful dinner in the Alpha Xi rooms, we discussed plans for new and brighter decorations. Were painters always so difficult to get?

Delta Delta Delta

But the big news comes from Florida this week. Anne Saurman is sporting an emerald-cut diamond . . . . the gentleman is Wallis Skinner, Kappa Sigma, of Clearwater. Wedding bells in March. Not to be outdone, Joan Metzger came back with a Sigma Chi pin from Dartmouth . . . . and promptly lost it. . . .

Good to have Jo Overlock back at the picnic at Dog Team on Monday night—the usual banquet-style picnic, a la Mrs. Joy.

We're expecting to see Ginny Knudsen, recently engaged to Jack Allen, and Mim Wade 'n Charlie Butts back for homecoming this week-end. Practically a full house, what with Peg Curtis Burkes, Roz Rittenhouse Hunt, Kaye Sturges, and Sally Peck Littlefield showing for the game, too!

Kappa Delta

The K. D.'s felt obliged to hit the books this summer after an apparent nine month's vacation in the mountains of Vermont. Reading between the lines, however, found Marty O'Brien in Nova Scotia, Joan Pratt back in Hawaii and even Smitty, determined as ever, skiing to Buffalo. She won't change her story either. Che Tewksbury took her job with the Anti-Cigarette Alliance too seriously and now one potential fire hazard to the redecorated K. D. rooms has been eliminated.

Congratulations to Mac Mase, who is sporting "24 pearls, 8 rubies, and one emerald"—unquote—all summed up in a Delta Pi pin from Blake Pierce.

We are sorry to lose Ginny Chaplin for awhile but glad to welcome Patty Cloutier who is back with us and Connie Parsons, our new pledge.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

After intensive investigation (conducted at the last meeting), the Kappas have compiled the following report of their summer activities:

Took the plunge: Pinkie Williams, '48.

Went to Europe: Loey Oslo Rapp.

Wrote Obituaries: Anne Moreau. (It was a dead job).

Loafed: Six anonymous bums.

Slaved (from dawn to dusk): Just ask; they'll tell you in detail.

Note: It will be observed that these headings are all-inclusive. For further info consult any Kappa!

Phi Mu

Along with the falling of autumn leaves, the Phi Mus have fallen back into the old Midd rut . . . . er, groove, with a few slight alterations. Meetings are now being held in the apartment of Lu Bates, née Newton, as often as hubby Don can be persuaded to visit the boys at the Lodge.

Gently easing in the budding social season, the Phi Mus entertained Dean Williams, Miss Temple, our patronesses, and representatives from each sorority at a tea last Sunday afternoon, pan-hellenically held in the Kappa Delta rooms. To the K. D.s we extend our thanks, even if you did insist on leaving your green and white banner spread all over the place.

Judy Mitchell has returned to Midd as Mrs. Jack Plummer. Maybe we can use her as a chaperone, huh?

We don't like to start the year off with a gripe, but something has got to be done about these Mu Phis. If they don't stop trying to peek into our secret correspondence (via a confused mail delivery), we'll complain to Interfraternity Council.

Pi Beta Phi

Perched upon bicycle handlebars, orange crates, and easy chairs (the remains of the summer storage plan), Pi Phi convened for its first meeting of the season. There were many things to look back on—an inspiring Convention, Peggy's new look (compliments of the cigar-smoked halls of Chi Psi), and Mrs. Guglin's wedding ring—to mention only a few—and lots more to plan for—wine carnations to our new pledge, Barb Lukens!

Saturday, in a burst of energy and a cloud of dust, we housecleaned our "exclusive" Battell Block pent house and closed with an original rendition of "Ring Ching Ching" well punctuated by sneezes. But the dirt has disappeared and our housemaids' knees were for a worthy cause. Come year, we are prepared!

Sigma Kappa

As soon as the last exam was over, some of us started to cover the continent. The 75th National Convention in Sun Valley, Ida., was the first item on the list of delegates Ada Fankhauser, Norma Hansen, and Joan Hunter. Their enthusiastic reports made all of us wish we could have gone, even though it did rain most of the time. . . . Afterwards, Ada journeyed up to Alaska, where she spent an interesting summer. Other travelers: "Taus" visited friends in North Carolina, and Dot Daggett went to Montana for a month.

Best wishes go to Anne Teague '49 and Bob Chadwick, who are pinned, and to alumnae Char Hoose, Marye Lee, Nat Richmond, Ky Sowles, and Corry Wescott, who are now married.

Mad Mountaineers Mount Moosalamoo

Hike attendance records reached a new peak last Sunday when some 220 Middlebury mountaineers attacked Moosalamoo. The striking force required six trucks and a prayer to trundle them toward their goal, the ominous 2400 ft. peak overlooking Lake Dunmore.

Normal hike attendance was almost trebled by the Freshman Battalion, who were filled with "first-hike" fervor. Their blue beanies were impeccable. Their dungaree seats were uninitiated. They had muscles left over from high school and two good lungs apiece. Moosalamoo didn't have a chance!

And there it was, bright in Autumn colors, straight up—and the sky hooks weren't running that day. Although the ascent to Rattlesnake Point, the summit of Moosalamoo, is one of the toughest climbs around, the view of Lake Dunmore and the surrounding countryside is breathtaking.

With this in mind, Red Hickcox and his Skyliners, sounding the Moose call, led the ascent, closely followed by the class of '52. Grabbing at crags, clutching at trees, grunting, panting, hoisting, shoving—they made it! Some view! After looking at other people's posteriors for 2400 feet, anything would look good; but this was something special. The valley was a blaze of reds and yellows; tiny Dunmore, looking like a puddle with toy sailboats on it, lay far below.

Such aesthetics lasted about as long as it took to get a grimy paw inside a lunch bag. Well, a guy's gotta eat, even 6.30 a.m. sandwiches made by Temporary Skyline.

After a sing-song, games, and a concert by guitar virtuoso Phil Porter, the hikers finally had to face facts. They still had to get down. The rugged descent from Rattlesnake Point is different from the climb. It also involves a different part of the anatomy. So the Mountain Club sat down on the job.

Everyone bounced down to the bottom his own way, according to his individual cushioning power. Some ended up at the Cascades, a small ice cake near the foot of the mountain. Here, the mob went berserk. They went swimming. They sloshed happily around in sub-zero depths.

They say that something snaps after you get to the bottom of a high mountain. After the swim, no one seemed quite the same. The crazed hikers mashed themselves madly into the six awaiting trucks, and when last heard of were roaring through town, all mooing loudly. There's something about a Mountain Club hike. . . .
